RIOTOUS MEETING.

For Several Hours the Democratic State Convention at Louisville Was in Disorder and All Business Was Blocked.

Louisville, June 27.—The belligerency of the delegates to the state Democratic convention to all appearances passed with the night. Chairman Redwine this morning ordered the 14th ballot for governor without arousing a word of protest. It proceeded in a humdrum way, the candidates dividing the vote just about as they have from the start. The conference between the Stone and Hardin managers lasted until late last night without bringing them any nearer an agreement. They have nothing in common to save except opposition to Goebel, and that does not appeal strongly enough to their followers to bring about a working agreement. The whole contest still swings around the imperturbable Kenton county man, who from the start played a hand coldly and skillfully and has not yet lost a trick.

The drift of the Hardin-Stone coalition is strongly towards Hardin in preference to Stone, but there is no sign yet that it will be effective.

The 14th ballot resulted: Stone, 378; Hardin, 358; Goebel, 356.

The 15th 16th, 17th and 18th ballots resulted in but little changes.

Louisville, June 27.—A continuous performance of howling farce lasting eight hours; a rare vocal entertainment with soloists and a chorus of several hundred voices; declamations and tin horn tests of lung power, made up the programme of the sixth day's session of the Democratic state convention and it narrowly escaped winding up in an exhibition of pugilism and marksmanship.

From 10 o'clock until 6 yesterday Central Music hall contained without doubt the most uproariously disorderly body of men that ever gathered together for the transaction of political or other business. Angered by what they considered an arbitrary ruling of the chair in refusing to allow an appeal from his decision declaring out of order a motion to remove policemen from the hall, over half the delegates set about with all the energy they could command to prevent by sheer force of lung power the transaction of any further business until they secured a vote on this appeal. This plan was successfully carried out until nearly 6 o'clock, when, principally because of utter physical exhaustion, the filibusters allowed themselves to be outwitted and the ballot on nomination for governor which the chair had ordered early in the morning and had tried repeatedly to proceed with, was concluded by having the county chairman, or as many as would, come to the stage and yell their votes at the clerk, who at a distance of a few inches, was able to catch the figures.

The teeth of the recalcitrants having been pried open, the bitter dose slowly trickled down and before they fairly realized they were beaten, a second ballot was recorded, this time with less tribulation.

Those two ballots, both fruitless, represent the day's work of the convention. After they were completed all were glad to adjourn until this morning.

Behind this spectacular entertainment three candidates for governor worked like beavers. It was clearly Goebel against the field and the Kenton leader, cold and nerveless as ever, has successfully defied his two opponents to combine and beat him. They may do it yet, but so far they have shown themselves woefully lacking in ability to throw their vote in any one direction or to keep it silent when it seemed best to their managers that no votes be cast.

Goebel controls the organization of the convention and through it the state central committee, and they will probably attack him here too, if they can get together. Yesterday's events will tend to bring them closer, but at present the fight is as open and fierce as it has been at any time.

Special Train Wrecked.

Indianapolis, June 15.—A special train on the Peoria and Eastern division of the Big Four road, carrying the Knights of Pythias from Champaign, Ills., to Danville Ills., to attend a celebration, was wrecked near Danville. The engine and tender jumped the track carrying two coaches after them into the ditch. Three boys were seriously injured, but no one killed.

New Railroad for Florida.

Cleveland, O., June 27.—A meeting of the Pan-American Railroad company was held here and the survey ordered made of the route from Tampa, Fla., south to the terminal on the Gulf of Mexico. Work will be commenced on the line as soon as the profile can be submitted to the contractors.

Killed on the Way to Church.

Montgomery, Ala., June 27.—While on her way to church Mrs. C. Connors, an estimable old lady, was run over and killed by the delivery wagon of a fruit merchant. The driver was also seriously hurt.

LIGHT DRAUGHT BOATS.

The Government Realizes the Value of Such Crafts in the Navy.

Washington, June 27.—The navy department is considering the advisability of fitting up and keeping in readiness light draught cruisers for special service like that recently performed by the Vixen at Bluefields. The suggestion is made by advocates of the plan that it would save time and expense. They say they would have the advantage of being able to cover the distance to faraway ports much more speedily than would heavier ships.

The matter is receiving careful attention and the opinion prevails that the plan will be adopted at no distant day. The present purpose is to use the auxiliary cruisers for this work and the Hawk and Dorothea are among the vessels which will thus be utilized. They probably will not be put in commission but will be provisioned and otherwise kept in condition for constant sea service. The intention is to have four such vessels.

Santiago Day in New York.

New York, June 27.—Santiago Day, July 3, promises to be generally observed in the financial and mercantile district of this city. Two exchanges, the cotton and coffee, have already agreed to suspend business on that day and similar action is expected to be taken by the stock exchange, the consolidated, the metal and the mercantile exchanges. The jeweler's league, crockery board of trade and wholesale dry goods league, are considering the proposition with prospects favorable to a suspension of business from the afternoon of June 30 to the morning of July 5. A majority of the leading custom brokers have signed a petition to Secretary Gage, requesting that the custom house be closed on that day.

Steamer Pawnee Burned.

Philadelphia, June 27.—The British steamship Aldborough, from Cardenas, which passed up the Delaware river reported the destruction by fire of the Clyde Line steamer Pawnee, which trades between New York and Philadelphia. The vessel was burned to the water's edge and there was no sign of life on board. The Aldborough passed the burned steamer 126 miles east of Cape Charles. The Pawnee, in command of Captain Ingram, left Brunswick Friday and Charleston Saturday for Boston laden with lumber and a general cargo. She carried a crew of 34 men, but no passengers. The vessel is valued at $100,000; fully insured. Later reports say all the crew were saved.

Four Negroes to Be Hanged.

Baltimore, June 27.—Cornelius Gardner, James and John Myers, all colored, were sentenced to be hanged by Judge Wright in the criminal court for criminally assaulting 13-year-old Annie Bailey, also colored. Governor Lowndes may set July 28, for the executing of the trio, and in that event there will be a quartette of negroes to pay the life penalty on that day. Joseph Bryan, who was recently convicted and sentenced to hang for the murder of Mary Peck, his common law wife, will be hanged on that day unless the governor intervenes.

Will Furnish the First Two.

Chicago, June 27.—A special to The Chronicle from New Orleans says New Orleans will furnish the first two of the four Spanish-English stenographers and typewriters wanted by the United States government for the courts in Manila. Louis M. Rodriguez was born in Manila of Spanish parentage, and Carlos Julio Elizalde, a Cuban, at present editor of the Spanish edition of the New Orleans Trade Journal, have accepted the government's offer and will shortly leave for Washington, thence to New York and Manila. The salary is $3000 per annum with all expenses paid to Manila.

Will Meet at Asheville.

Richmond, June 27.—The Southern Wholesale Grocers' association's eighth annual convention will be held at Asheville, N. C., July 6. This organization comprises the trade of 12 states and two territories. The approaching convention, it is stated, will be the largest ever held by the association. From some of the large southern cities the entire trade is expected to attend.

Killed His Brother-in-Law.

Ardmore, I. T., June 27.—A sensational killing occurred near here in which Sam Smith, well known in the Territory, lost his life. Smith became involved in a difficulty with James Hunt, his brother-in-law, over a trivial matter. Hunt with his family camped near here. Hunt emerged from his tent and as Smith advanced, Hunt fired with fatal effect.

"TIME IS MONEY."

"The Longest Way Round Is Sometimes The Quickest Way Home."

These wise old saws apply to the new fast train service now in effect via the Great Rock Island Route. While not the short line everywhere, we "get there," which is the main point to be considered.

A whole business day saved is one argument. A maximum of comfort by reason of through service, modern equipment; rock ballast; in short, an up-to-date rail way, are several other arguments to assist you in deciding how and via what route to purchase tickets.

The new schedule is as follows: Leave Fort Worth, 8:25 a. m.; arrive Lincoln, 7:10 a. m.; arrive Omaha, 9 a. m., connecting at latter point with train through Iowa; arriving Des Moines; 4:30 p. m.

A northern syndicate is taking steps to form a cornstalk combine, with a capital of $50,000,000. Its promoters say that if they succeed in carrying out their ideas the 250,000,000 tons of cornstalks that are now burned by the farmers or allowed to lie in the field and rot will possess a value of $6 per ton. There are several articles of manufacture for which the cornstalk is adapted.

Proposals.

Bids are invited until July 1 for the building of Allen Academy. Plans and specifications may be seen at the First National Bank. The board of directors reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Walter Wipprecht,
185 Secretary.

The Question

has been asked why I have my own medicinal preparations, and why I try to sell them in preference to Patent medicines.

There are a good many reasons, namely:—

BECAUSE I can afford to give you the same or better value than the Patent Medicine men do for less money—namely, 20 per cent less.

BECAUSE a great many people have learned that my standard medicinal Preparations give them better satisfaction, and they look to us to furnish the preparations they need.

BECAUSE I can recommend them with a confidence born of a knowledge of what they contain.

BECAUSE he who buys my Preparations has only one profit to pay, while he who buys the Patent has several of them and more besides.

BECAUSE the Patent Medicine man doesn't care anything about you or us anyhow only to sell his stuff.

BECAUSE the people are learning that a good druggist knows more than some fellow who found(?) his recipe in the hands of an Egyptian mummy or from some Indian squaw.

For these Reasons I sell
my own Preparations.

E. R. Emmel Ph G.,

Manufacturing Pharmacist.

The Sioux City Tribune claims that there is but one remedy which will act promptly and effectively against the industrial combines and that is the removal of the Dingley protection which makes the existence of a majority of them possible. There is no getting around this, for it is as plain as daylight that power to raise prices comes with protection from foreign competition.

Bids Wanted.

Sealed bids are wanted for five mule teams and drivers by the day to work to scrapers and plows on the sand hill, one mile this side of Navasota bridge on Bryan and Madisonville public road. Bids to be opened on the 15th day of July, 1899. The right to reject any and all bids reserved. Bidders to furnish feed for hands and mules. Bids will be received by W. R. Johnston and W. L. Turner.

IT IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

Law Passed by the New Jersey Legislature Protecting Union Men.

Scranton, N. J., June 27.—Judge Gunster has handed down an opinion in which he declares the act passed by the legislature in 1897 which gives protection to employees who form, join or belong to labor organizations, is unconstitutional. The opinion was in the case of Lewis Muck who prosecuted George W. Clark, a foreman for a large steam fitting and plumbing house, for discharging workmen because they belonged to labor unions. Judge Gunster says:

"The act in question affords no protection whatever to the employee of the individual, firm or limited partnership. On the contrary, while the employee of a corporation, under its provisions, may freely form, join or belong to any lawful organization, his neighbor engaged in the same occupation or trade when employed by an individual or firm may be banished for doing the same thing."

American Miners Die in Siberia.

San Francisco, June 27.—A special from Nevada City says Mrs. Norval Douglass of San Francisco has received a letter saying her son, Harry Douglas and 25 other picked miners from California who left June 2, last year for Siberia, perished from privation and cold. It is stated the party went to Siberia under contract to a New York company, expecting to be gone three years.

England's Fleet to Mobilize.

A Paying Investment!

As bearing upon the subject of cotton mills being discussed at present in the columns of the Eagle, we print the following from the Ft. Worth Register:

The annual reports of the cotton mills at Greenville, S. C., made last week show an unprecedented growth of profits. But unprecedented profits in a Southern mill mean something extraordinary, something larger than 20 and 30 per cent dividends to stock holders. A mill with $125,000 capital shows a net profit of $37,000. The Piedmont mills show a net profit of over $125,000 and others in proportion. The profits for the current year will be much larger. The Poe mill, which made $2000 a month last year, is making $6000 a month this year.

The result of this is to arouse in local capitalists a desire to invest in the cotton spinning industry, and many new spindles will be added to the total number this year. Stock has been subscribed for a $600,000 mill at Anderson, S. C., and a mill with 25,000 spindles is to be built at Belton.

These profits constitute a species of object lesson to local capitalists who see in them greater returns than in holding their money in the banks, waiting for borrowers at 15 to 20 per cent. It would be well for Texas if some of her local money owners would turn their attention from loaning to investments.

A down east editor has drawn up some new game laws which he wants adopted. The following is a summary: "Book agents may be killed from October 1 to September 1; spring poets, from March 1 to June 1; scandalmongers from April 1 to February 1; umbrella borrowers, from August 1 to November 1 and February 1 to May 1, while every man who accepts a newspaper two years, and upon being presented with his bill, says, 'I never ordered it!' may be killed on the spot, without reserve or relief."—Christian Register.

SIXTY-FOUR CENT COTTON.

Why Not Go After Some of the Cream?

Birmingham Age-Herald.

If one will take even ordinary dress goods, such as women buy every day, and weigh them, it will be seen that they are selling at the rate of 64 cents a pound. The farmer got 5 cents of this amount, and the retail dealer gets as much more, and the balance, 54 cents, go to the railroads, owned elsewhere, and to people in the North. The South gets for its staple in this case, 10 cents a pound, and the North 54 cents.

There is no nonsense or deception about these figures. They are cold facts numerically expressed. The manufacturer in the North does not pocket 54 cents a pound, but the 54 cents—accurately speaking, about 52 cents—does go into the pockets of northern people, some of them big operatives, some of them engaged in transportation and some in the manufacture and sale of supplies. Forty-two out of 64 cents expended for dress goods made of cotton is paid into northern pockets; only 12 cents being retained in the South. We do not care to trace that 12 cents, lest we find that it, too, is landed at last alongside the 52 cents in the course of the purchase of fertilizers, meats, other goods, machinery and the like.

We need not grumble over 5 cent cotton when we know that we can readily make it worth to the state ten times that price. If we can not readily at this stage of manufacturing development in the South increase its value to the community ten fold, we know we can increase it three-fold or four-fold. We can at least make standard sheetings and this would carry 5 cent cotton up to 20 cents, which is a fine raise in itself.

HENDERSON LYNCHING

Two Members of the Mob Tell of the Crime.

GO INTO DETAILS.

Names of All the Men Revealed and the Plans as Carried Out Told. Courthouse Packed to its Full Capacity.

Athens, June 27.—The trial of the ten men accused of lynching the three Humphries was continued this morning. Public interest has waned and not half as big a crowd was present as on Monday. John Greenhaw was again on the stand and his cross examination was continued. The defense tried to show that there was an agreement between John and Arthur Greenhaw as to what they would swear, but failed to do so. The witness again recited every detail of the hanging giving time and place of all that transpired that night. He stuck to his story without a stutter and cleverly evaded all the traps put by the defense. He testified fully and freely.

Athens, Tex., June 27.—The preliminary hearing of the 10 men who are charged with participating in the lynching of the three Humphries in the Trans-Cedar district on the night of May 23, began here yesterday. Court convened for this purpose at 3:30 in the afternoon and the oldest men of the local bar cannot recall an occasion when more persons have assembled in a Henderson county courtroom. There was a perfect jam.

Polk Weeks and John Greenhaw made confessions implicating the others on trial. These men gave the minutest details of the commission of the crime which has sent a thrill of horror everywhere.

Stolidly indifferent to the bewildering interrogatories of the cross-examiners, the two men told their stories and refused to change so much as a word.

Despite the sharp admonitions of the army of deputy sheriffs, the great throng of spectators, men, women and children, stood upon the benches outside the bar and drank in every word with open-mouthed wonder. To them it rivaled in fascination any detective story ever written, and they are discussing its details and features with the greatest animation.

It is believed that the hearing will consume several days, but, be it long or short, there are many hundreds of Henderson county agriculturists who will not return to their homes until the last word has been uttered on the witness stand and Justice Averitt has settled the question of whether or not the accused shall be released on bail.

There was no conflict in statements of the two men who made confessions. John Greenhaw said the mob was composed of himself, Joe Wilkinson, W. A. Johns, Bob Stevens, John Gaddis, Walter Wilkinson, W. B. Brooks, Polk Weeks, Arthur Greenhaw, Sam Hall and Mahan.

He said Wilkinson came to see him on May 23, to go and look for Patison. They were to meet about a mile from there.

They started at late bedtime. His brother and himself went to meet the crowd.

Went down near the corner of Jim Humphries field. Stopped near the crossroads and tied their horses; planned how to manage the searching for Patison. Went to Jim Humphries' house and took him out, saying they were going to look for Patison. Searched John Humphries' house and got Humphries. Left Weeks and himself to watch and see that no runners were sent out.

They told the Humphries they would go to a neighbor's house and look for Patison there. Three hundred or 400 yards up the road they stopped.

They told the Humphries that if they did not tell where Patison was they would hang them. They asked them about stealing Wilkinson's hogs. They had ropes on them by this time. They took them out to one side of the road and put them on horses.

Polk Weeks climbed the tree and some one threw the ropes up to him and he tied them around the tree. Joe Wilkinson drove the horses out from under them.

There was an oath administered that any one of the crowd would kill anyone who told. Then they all went home.

BIG LABOR ORGANIZATION.

It Is Proposed to Unite 500,000 Workers in New York into One Order.

New York, June 27.—The organization of a great union of 500,000 workmen in Greater New York has been begun by a committee appointed by the Central Federated union. William A. Perrine, secretary of the iron moulders conference board and one of the leading members said:

"This new union will be the biggest local central labor body on the face of the earth. All the unions in the five boroughs of New York City will join. It will be more powerful than many great national and international unions and will have more influence in one city than any labor organization which has ever existed. The business of conducting the big bodies which now exist independently, will be greatly facilitated. Employees also will benefit by the centralization of labor unions in New York City.

"Strikes are bound to become fewer in number year after year through the influence of the great central organization. The principle of arbitration will triumph at last.

"For eleven years the brick layers unions have had no strikes because all brick layers have been in one union. There are many fine examples of the centralization principle which can be found in Greater New York."

CAUSED A KICK.

New Rules as to the Shipping of Cattle on Water.

Boston, June 27.—Many of the local representatives of European steamship lines met here to discuss the new orders issued by the United States agricultural department. On the matter of changes in cattle fittings on transatlantic liners it was voted to request the department to waive the new rulings for steamers already constructed.

The new regulations set forth many changes in the present arrangements for carrying cattle. A new rule requires a 3-foot alleyway between cattle fittings and the lower hold which would necessitate the taking away of one tier of cattle and would greatly lessen the number carried by each steamer.

The regulation was originally intended to go into effect on June 15, but upon an appeal of the steamship owners the ruling was suspended until Sept. 15, for vessels already built. The principal object of the new order is to secure greater space for each animal carried, and the rule also applies to the carrying of horses.

Girl Made of Solid Gold.

Denver, June 27.—The Colorado-Paris exposition commission has made a contract with F. D. Higbee for a solid gold statue for exhibition at the Paris exposition. The design represents an up-to-date girl, the figure of life size being cast in solid gold 18 karats fine, the cast with its base being six feet four inches in height. It is estimated that a million dollars worth of gold will be used. The pedestal is to be of copper and pure silver, standing five feet eight inches high, three feet square at the top and six feet four inches at the base.

Wagoner, I. T., June 27.—News has reached this place of the assassination of James Brown, a prominent farmer of the Going-Snake district. Brown was plowing in his field near his home and was shot down by an unknown person from a nearby thicket. The assassin's bullet passed through Brown's heart, killing him instantly. No motive is known for the crime, and no arrests have yet been made.

Custom House and Consulate Burned.

CONFLICT OF COURTS.

The Tangle Is Over the Miners' Strike up in Kansas.

Weir City, Kas., June 27.—Deputy United States Marshal F. C. Trigg, is serving a restraining order issued by United States District Judge Hook on about 100 union miners, restraining them from in any manner interfering with the operations of the Central Coal and Coke company. Accompanying the injunction is a subpoena citing them to appear before the Federal court at Fort Scott the first Monday in August.

Sheriff Sparks of Cherokee county is also enjoined from interfering with the company in any lawful steps or means it may take to employ men to work in the mines in Cherokee and Crawford counties and also from interfering in any steps it may take to bring outside miners whom it has employed to work in the mines.

This injunction brings the state and Federal courts into conflict, inasmuch as the state court had previously granted an injunction against the bringing of negroes from the south, acting on the allegations of the union miners that the negroes were criminals and liable to bring disease into the country.

Injured While Saving a Girl.

Chicago, June 27.—While walking on the tracks of the Chicago Terminal railway late Sunday afternoon John Kolowsky was fatally injured in a remarkable effort to save the life of Agnes Gross. The two were crossing a trestle, the girl a few steps in front, when a switch engine rounded a curve at a high speed. Kolowsky sprang forward and grasping the girl about the waist and swung himself on one of the iron braces, but the pilot of the locomotive struck him and with the girl he was hurled 30 feet below. Kolowsky struck the ground first, breaking the girl's fall, but fracturing his skull. The girl escaped with slight injuries.

The Strike Growing.

Chicago, June 27.—The strikers in the stockyards have reached the 3000 mark. Hog killing is practically at a standstill and little work is done in the canning departments of Armour & Co., Libby, McNeill & Libby and Nelson Morris & Co. The packers have practically offered to pay the scale of wages existing in 1893, about what the men have been asking.

One hundred more men will be secured.

A Corner in Cotton.

The New York Press says: One of the leading men of New York, whose name is as well known as Chauncey Depew's, visited a dentist yesterday morning in Fifth avenue to have a tooth filled. It had been filled before by a dental surgeon whose name is in all the journals of medicine and surgery. He spouts and chatters, goes in society and rides a horse in the park. He is an excellent self advertiser. When a new dentist touched the gold in the patient's mouth as if it had been on springs, and an examination of the cavity beneath brought forth this remark: "I see that you are getting up a corner in cotton." The man jumped nearly out of the chair. His face showed astonishment. Looking hard at the dentist, he said: "How did you guess that?" "Oh, I can see by the way your teeth are affected," was the half serious reply. "Strangest thing I ever heard of," said the other. "It is quite true that I am deeper in cotton than any other man in the United States right now, but how you found it out I cannot possibly imagine." The dentist poked around with a pointed instrument and exhibited a wad of cotton. "That's how I know," he said. "I found it in your tooth, underneath the gold. You probably thought you had a cinch on it."

His Retort Settled It.

"I can remember a good many years back, said a Detroit veteran in politics, "and whatever way he said as to the integrity of our present statesmen, campaigns are conducted in a great deal more moderate tone than they used to be. Then it was the usual thing to indulge in the strongest possible abuse of men and parties.

"I once heard a joint debate between a couple of candidates for our legislature that will serve to illustrate. They taunted and berated each other till all other questions were lost sight of in the popular anxiety to see which excelled in this style of warfare. "Finally the hotter headed of the two burst out in an announcement that he could whip his rival or any of his friends.

"That reminds me," said the other coolly, "of a dog that my father used to have that could whip any dog in the neighborhood or any that came that way with the teamsters."

"What's the application, sir?" roared the other. "I'll stand no innuendoes, sir. Make your application if you dare."

"It is simply this, my pugnacious friend; no one ever thought of sending father's dog to the legislature."

The fire eater remained at home.

Detroit's Bureau of Horology.

It was about ten minutes before closing time in the city clerk's office—the busiest period of the day—yesterday afternoon, and Chief Clerk George Gaston was making the ink fly at a lively rate.

"Tin-a-ling-ling."

It was the telephone at the far side of the room. Gaston dropped his pen and rushed to the instrument.

"Is this the city hall?" queried a soft feminine voice at the other end of the line.

The frown on the clerk's face softened. In dulcet tone he informed the fair inquirer that it was.

"Will you please be so kind as to tell me what time it is?" continued the voice at the other end of the wire.

"Wha—wha—I beg pardon," stammered the clerk.

"Will you please tell me what time it is. You see, our clock has stopped, and the walks are so wet that I hated to step out, and I thought if I called up the city hall I'd get the right time, because if I'm late with supper my husband—"

"Ten minutes to 4, ma'am! Three-fifty. Yes, ten minutes to 4. Good-by—not at all—a real pleasure, I assure you."

But as the clerk went back to his desk he looked tired.—Detroit Journal.
